ders of any sort. You don't know what I am Keep quiet. With a Power like Prussia we cannot too gently, rhe English are getting more accommodating, uderdale and Lord Yarmouth are the negotiators, t arrived this morning.

The illness of Mr. Fox makes the negotiations gland drag. Rambonillet: ic King of Naples.) It would be a good thing if the tan rabble attempted a revolt. So long m you t made an example you will not be their master. ;>nquered nation should revolt at least once, and view an insurrection at Naples a.s the father of a lews measles in his children, providing the patient o much weakened. It marks a healthy crisis,

(To Fowhe.) If you know where General in is, send for him and question him about 11 lady iCeilenfels, whom he married two months before ig Mile. d'Eckhardt, I have no power over Urn md there must be an exemplary punishment for table an offence. Doej* tlm general realize that ninal Court will condemn him to the g&llews ? n he hava been m unmindful of the lawn of

The whole bumnewt I'M very humiliating for the irrny. (To the King of Naples.) I have* rw*ivttl your the 18th. I regret that you anticipate newer your brother again, nave in the Klysian Pieicljt, mple enough matter that I should riot have the itiraentfi for you at forty m 1 had at twelve!

I